

Colour the Collection

Untitled, Makusi Qaqutu, soapstone and bone, Manitoba Crafts Museum and Library

Makusi Qaqutu's soapstone carving, like most Inuit carvings, depicts traditional and daily life of the Inuit. The form of the hunter and fish are sleek and rounded, common characteristics of Inuit carvings, with incised details.